Meister
Wild Morel & Leek Jack

Meister Cheese asks one thing of its product: it must be "Cow First." Dairy used to make these cheeses come from farmers who adhere to exceptional standards for cows' health and comfort. They must have clean living spaces that allow them all to lie and rest with each other. Their feed must be vegetarian. No hormones for increased milk production. No harming the cow at all. The cows must be a loved member of the family. The effort seems to show. Their semi-soft Wild Morel and Leek Monterey Jack is an award-winning staple in their line of cheeses. It is smooth and creamy. It pairs well with a soft white wine. It promises a light, delightful experience.
