Spicy Black Bean Soup Mix Frontier Co-op

You may have noticed products around the store with the Frontier logo, but we're guessing you don't know the story behind this fantastic cooperative. They offer employees onsite daycare and transportation assistance, and participate in second chance hiring. Their Well Earth program takes an innovative approach to sourcing, addressing systemic issues in the global supply chain. In addition to their strict quality and traceability practices, Frontier's program addresses education, medical, and basic needs in their supplier's communities. They are investing in value added processes in the supplier's communities as well, which brings more market value to the product the suppliers sell. Frontier's goal is to invest $5 million in supply chain development by fiscal year 2026. You can support this mission and have a quick and easy dinner solution with this new Frontier product- a southwestern style spicy bean soup mix. Enjoy it with cornbread or tortilla chips, some sour cream and a sprinkle of green onions.

Topographical Marquette Map Shirts Topogra

Many of us have chosen to live in Marquette because of the beautiful landscape and fantastic hiking. Turns out, the owner of the St. Paul-based company Topogra feels the same way. Owner Paul Hess used to live in Marquette and also shopped at the co-op! While he has moved to a bigger city, he started his company while living in Marquette. The first two locations ever produced on these comfy shirts were Sugarloaf and Hogback Mountain. Great gift idea for your friends that love to hike!

CHEESE OF THE WEEK

Capriole Tea Rose

Winter meanders in with its snow-laden fields, bare trees, and biting air. We may miss the colors of spring, but with Capriole's Tea Rose, we may reminisce with its floral colors and bright flavors. Pair it with an equally rosy wine or dandelion tea.
