Carr Valley
Marisa

Carr Valley Marisa

A semi-firm sheep's cheese made with the milk from a Wisconsin cooperative, its flavors are simple, bright, and full of fresh notes of vanilla and hazelnut. The texture is smooth with little pockets of crunch, which makes this cheese totally addictive. Marisa is named for Wisconsin Cheesemaker Sid Cook's daughter; Sid is notorious for his playfulness and inventiveness in cheesemaking. Definitely a crowd pleaser, it's a great option for those who love Manchego but want to try something different. It won American Cheese Society's first place award in 2004.
