Dark Chocolate Covered Freeze Dried Banana

Trü Frü

These gluten-free treats are generating a lot of buzz. The fruit is picked and frozen at peak ripeness, then hyper dried for an intense fruit taste. These little flavor bombs are then lightly coated in chocolate for a decadent treat.

Yellowfin Tuna Fillets in Spring Water

Tonnino

Tonnino's dedication to marine conservation has earned them the prestigious Ecological Blue Flag Award. This accolade recognizes companies that exemplify environmental responsibility through sustainable practices. They only use pole and line fishing without the use of Fish Aggregating Devices (FADs). They also come out on top for many taste tests of canned or jarred tuna, known for their tender and rich flavor.

Strawberry Matcha Latte

Taika

Taika uses ceremonial grade matcha to blend this refreshing drink. Plant-based and gluten-free, Taika uses macadamia nut milk in this drink for a buttery, rich flavor that complements the sweetness of the strawberry.

Oat Milk Chocolate Line

Taza

Taza was the first U.S. chocolate maker to establish a third-party certified Direct Trade Cacao Certification program. They only partner with cacao producers who respect the rights of workers and the environment and pay above fair-trade price. Taza is also unique in its processing, using traditional Mexican stone mills, called molinos for grinding. These mills preserve the bright, fruity flavor of the beans. Many customers love the bold flavor and texture of Taza, and now there is an oat milk option! Available flavors are the classic flavor, fruit & nut crunch bar, a quinoa crunch bar, and a coffee toffee bar.
